STUDENTS OF THE WEEK

Blackfriars FE

Sean B for educating Rob and Karl about Politics and Current Affairs!

Marshall Y for supporting the college production 'scenery department'. It is truly amazing the scenery that Marshall is creating and when complete we will take lots of photographs to share with other colleges. A budding artist and all round great young man.

Blackfriars, Newcastle

Blackfriars Performing Arts students BTec group who loved the performance and when meeting the actors at the end, were able to quote the script to them!!

Walton Hall

Richard - Well done for being awarded the Lions Award for his contribution to media and performance. He was presented with his certificate and voucher during the Celebration of Achievement evening. Check out Walton Hall You Tube and be amazed!

STAFF GOING THE EXTRA MILE...

Blackfriars FE

Ricky porter for supporting with EHCP reviews and the transition process at this very busy time. Parents, staff and students appreciate the guidance and encouragement enormously.

Darren Collings and Nik Whitford for organising and producing the 'Thriller' video.

Blackfriars, Newcastle

Steph Owen for organising a brilliant trip to The Lowry to see 'Blood Brothers' with the BTec Performing Arts group. Angie Bloor and Sharyl O'Sullivan for looking after everyone so well on the trip, despite their blurred eyesight because of the tears at the end of the performance! Sam Mitchell for giving up her day off to meet everyone at The Lowry and share in the experience with the class and Kevin Goodman, who, as always, drove superbly well, navigating very bad traffic to get everyone home safely. Thank you to you all.

Walton Hall

Allyn Evans and Andy Mrozec for organising and running the team sports sessions for both Key Stage 3 and 4. All of the students loved the sessions and are learning lots of new skills as well as keeping them fit and healthy.

Allyn Evans has received outstanding feedback from parents in a recent meeting. The parent was delighted with the progress their son has made and feel he has a great relationship with him.

GOOD NEWS STORIES

Blackfriars FE

Michael Jacksons 'Thriller' video

To show support for Children in Need 2016 and to help raise money for the college the FE have produced their own take on Michael Jacksons 'Thriller' video. Students had great fun dressing up, acting their scene and then producing and editing the video which looks fantastic. The video was produced using the green screen technology and took place in the performing arts studio using their high tech equipment. Students showed off their talents and there are some budding actors, producers and editors in the making. The video will be sold at the Christmas Fayre on Friday 2nd December if anyone would like a copy then contact Morag Dunster on 01782 296300.

Blackfriars, Newcastle

Blood Brothers

Students enjoyed a fabulous and tearful visit to The Lowry to see Blood Brothers.

Remembrance Day Assembly

A fantastic informative and respectful Remembrance Day themed assembly was given by Year 8 students supported by Mrs Stanlake. It held the interest of all the students. It was great to see all the year 8 students actively involved, each taking responsibility for different aspects of the assembly. This helped all of the students to be well prepared for the two minute silence on Friday when the school fell silent and everyone remembered all those who had given up their lives for our country.

Walton Hall Celebration Evening

A lovely evening to celebrate achievements with 28 students and their families attending. With representatives from the Lions club presenting the awards, it was fantastic to see many of our July leavers and hearing about how they have settled into their new college courses, training programmes and jobs. This is a fantastic opportunity to celebrate not only the hard work of the students but the work and determination of staff who have been involved with the students from year 7 supporting them to become the 'rounded' young adults they have now become. A huge thank you to the admin staff who gave up their evening to provide and serve the refreshments. A Fantastic evening was had by all.
